

ANNOUNCING THE PUBLICATION OF "OCA ORACLE SQL EXPERT EXAM GUIDE (1ZO-047)" FROM ORACLE PRESS

The long-awaited book OCA Oracle SQL Expert Exam Guide is now shipping to bookstores and is available online at Amazon.com and at other technical book sources. The book is published by Oracle Press, an imprint of McGraw-Hill Professional.

The book helps readers study for the Oracle Corporation certification exam 1ZO-047 Oracle Database SQL Expert, the first "expert" exam in the series of official Oracle certifications. The book includes 18 chapters that match the exam's certification objectives, and is written to help both novices and experts easily navigate the material they need to understand in order to prepare for and pass the exam. Also included are self-test exams after each chapter. In addition, the book includes a CD that features an interactive exam designed to simulate the exam experience, with similar questions, but also featuring interactive study hints and grading. Furthermore, the book comes with login instructions to allow the reader to access a second exam online at the Oracle Press website.

O'Hearn's last book was OCP Developer PL/SQL Program Units Exam Guide, published in 2002. Amazon readers have given O'Hearn's book 4.5 stars out of 5. A sample of some of the reviews:

* (5 STARS) Excellent guide for exam 1ZO-147 - K. Shah - November 20, 2006

About Steve O'Hearn

Mr. O'Hearn is an information technology consultant specializing in Oracle database and web technology. His clients have included the National Press Club, the World Bank, national labor unions, NASA HQ and other U.S. government agencies. He led the development team that created the Work Control Systems for the NASA Space Station Freedom TMIS project, the U.S. Army Reserve Component Automated System (RCAS) project, and many other large U.S. government projects, where his application end-users numbered in the hundreds and in some cases, the tens of thousands. His Maintenance Status Report system saved Boeing Information Systems in excess of $200M per year for a ten-year project. He automated budget-tracking systems for various NASA centers, the U.S. Army, Navy, the FAA, and many other clients.

Mr. O'Hearn has been published in periodicals such as IT Recruiter and the Harvard Business Review, and has written for and edited the National Press Club's weekly Record. He was the technical editor for Oracle Web 101 from Osborne/McGraw-Hill, and contributed to Oracle8 Server Unleashed from Macmillan Computer Publishing. His critically acclaimed book OCP Developer: PL/SQL Program Units is part of the Oracle Corporation-certified Oracle Press series for the Oracle Certified Professional exams.

Mr. O'Hearn graduated from The George Washington University in 1983 with a degree in Business Administration specializing in Information Processing. In 1985 he conducted post-graduate work in advanced business mathematics at the University of Maryland's University College. He completed the Future of e-Government Executive Education training at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government in 2003.

He is a past Vice President of the Mid-Atlantic Association of Oracle Professionals, and he currently chairs the New Media Committee of the National Press Club. He is a member of MENSA.
